

Max De Aloe is considered one of the most active jazz harmonicists on the European scene.

His works number eleven albums as a leader and more than twenty as a sideman, as well as solo shows, soundtrack composition for theater performances and documentary films, and creative collaborations with poets, writers and directors.

He has worked with Adam Nussbaum, Kurt Rosenwinkel, Paul Wertico, John Helliwell (Supertramp), Mike Melillo, Bill Carrothers, Eliot Zigmund, Don Friedman, Garrison Fewell, Dudu Manhenga, Franco Cerri, Gianni Coscia, Dado Moroni and countless others. He has participated in various music seasons and festivals all over the world.

His professional activities are split between playing and teaching. He runs his own music school, which he founded in 1995, (Centro Espressione Musicale) in Gallarate (Milan), where he teaches modern piano, accordion and above all chromatic harmonica.

He was a teacher at the Accademia d'Arti e Mestieri dello spettacolo of Milan's prestigious La Scala theater.

He has published Method for Chromatic Harmonica in 2012 by Sher Music in USA and the same method in Italy for Volontè & Co. in 2013.
